Highlights of 2011

The most outstanding highlight this year is the development of Flame Zone windows and doors as a first in Australia with the Sliding Doors being a world first. They tick all the boxes and comply with all AS for building in bushfire prone areas. On the shutter side our affiliated company 'Sonnenschutz' has provided bushfire safety for more than 20 properties this year, mostly shutters for buildings rated Flame Zone.

In October we exhibited for the first time in Sydney at the Grand Design Live. It was a thrill to meet and talk to Kevin McCloud and Peter Maddison in person. Also, the Austrian Trade Commissioner and Consul General Guido Stock kindly visited us on our stand.

Further developments have started on a new window to achieve even lower U-values of under 1. The glass will be double/triple glazing with heat mirrors.

Just in time for Christmas our brand new website will be up and running, Hans Bauer at 'Omnibrand' outdid himself, please have a look at www.paarhammer.com.au and let us know what you think by mail, phone, on Facebook or Twitter. A blog will soon also replace our newsletter and we encourage everyone to contribute.
